Subject: Proposed Settlement Benefits Microsoft and Punishes Everyone Else

Please reconsider the proposed settlement that you have made with Microsoft, especially the part where Microsoft will donate $1 billion worth of Microsoft Software and Computers to under privileged schools. This settlement punishes no one and will actually benefit Microsoft who stands to gain increased market share in the educational market. Once Microsoft has this increased market share they will use their position against the educational markets to bully them just like they have the business sector. If you want to punish Microsoft you should make them give the $1 billion dollars divided equally to the 12,500 schools and let them spend it on whatever computer hardware and software matches their technology road maps.

Thanks for your time,
